REQUESTED BY: Tommy Batson

SHORT TITLE: Presentation of StormReady/TsunamiReady Re-certification to Pender County Emergency Management

BACKGROUND: Pender County Emergency Management has completed all the required training, public outreach and planning to become re-certified as a National Weather Service StormReady/TsunamiReady County. To remain certified, Pender County must satisfy a multitude of guidelines every three years. The StormReady/TsunamiReady program has strengthened the County's ability to respond and react to hazardous weather as well as Emergency Management's partnership with the National Weather Service office in Wilmington, NC. This recognition is the third time that Pender County has accomplished the re-certification process.
