

Sheltering and Housing Solutions for North Carolina Survivors of Hurricane Florence

Survivors of Hurricane Florence in North Carolina who sustained damage to their primary residences may be eligible for one or more of the following FEMA sheltering and temporary housing solutions:

Rental Assistance:

Offers temporary financial help so disaster survivors have somewhere to live while they make plans for permanent housing.

Who may be eligible?

A homeowner or renter whose primary residence is determined to be uninhabitable after a FEMA inspection, who has housing needs not covered by insurance and who needs to relocate while repairs are under way.

Transitional Sheltering Assistance:

Pays room and tax costs at participating hotels for disaster survivors.

Who may be eligible?

A survivor whose primary home is uninhabitable or inaccessible due to the disaster and who has housing needs not covered by insurance. Survivors do not need to wait for a FEMA housing inspection to be considered eligible.

Home Repairs:

Helps disaster survivors make basic repairs so that their homes are safe, sanitary and functional.

Who may be eligible?

A homeowner whose primary residence is determined to be uninhabitable after a FEMA inspection and who has a housing need not covered by insurance.

Direct Temporary Housing:

Provides temporary travel trailers or manufactured housing units to eligible survivors in 10 counties: Brunswick, Carteret, Columbus, Craven, Duplin, Jones, New Hanover, Onslow, Pender and Robeson.

Who may be eligible?

Trailers and manufactured housing units are a temporary solution for survivors whose primary home is uninhabitable, have uninsured housing needs and have no other practical temporary housing options available within a reasonable commuting distance from their primary residence. Renters whose pre-disaster rental is determined to have major damage or is destroyed may also be eligible.
