Hurricane Matthew

In October 2016, Hurricane Matthew devastated the western side of Pender County with high flood waters. Over the span of two weeks, the Pender County Animal Shelter put in countless hours wading and boating through water to rescue and house over 100 animals from flooded homes and properties. Weeks later, many animals were reunited at the shelter with their owners or were adopted. In the midst of the chaos, several inspiring circumstances came to light. A 500 lb. hog, who was rescued from nearly drowning, was entered into the neighboring county fair and won First Place in "Best in Show". A rescued pregnant mini donkey gave birth at our shelter to "Mattie" during the storm.
